be on the side of Germany, if not immediately, certainly ere long, unless the war noticed, at various times, her peace-at-anyto increase taxation upon a dissatisfied population; but this policy cannot be arried out by a great nation like England. Already it has weakened English and increased French influence on the continent. But every Power which material and political greatless is under a responsibility of which it can not get rid if it would.

This responsibility includes the duty mitting wrong to be done by any other Power. England, though with Eu ropean influence, much diminished, has not and never can become isolated. Every now and then something occurs which reminds herself, reminds the nations that Great Britain has an important place in the European economy. Mr. Cobden was sed to the policy of war, on the ground of its expense increasing the burdens of the working classes, who pay two-thirds of all the public taxes in England, but admitted that circumstances might make war an actual necessity. He objected, also, to mitted that circumstances might make war an actual necessity. He objected, also, to England's going to war, because, he said if she did, it would be, as usual, on the wrong side; and he instanced the two transfers of the English Governments. Its law was in the hands of the English Governments. American contests, the twenty years' war to restore the worthless Bourbons to the French throne, and the Crimean war which merely built up the power of Louis Napoleon and the glory of Frensh arms. But even Mr. Cobden would not object to England's now taking a decided stand in favor of Germany, and against the en-cronchments and ambition of France.

inst., before France declared war, and only ight days after the threatening attitude of Louis Napoleon was taken, made a calculation of what the alarm of war had already cost, in that one week, by the depre sistion of securities. The value of French rentes had fallen £30,000,000; that of British consols £8.315,000; that of the Italian bonds £8,315,000; that of the United States loans $12,600,000; and the total loss of value in national securities sold in London was no less than £76,295,000; or not far cent. from $400,000,000, without including the tooks of Germany, Austria, Belgium, Holno miles are made in London.

occurred in French rentes, which, on the the 12th at 66 50. Our own scourities had fallen from 90%, and, calculating the total stock affected at two thousand one dred millions of dollars, we have a to tal depreciation of sixty-three millions three hundred thousand dollars.

took place; and in those of eleven promiin value of £2,437,000. The total loss of perty to investers by the more declaration of this aggressive war is certainly lars, a greater amount, perhaps, than it was ever before in the power of one man's crime to destroy, and which, as the Econo mist justly says, implies individual suffer-murder was set down for yesterday. The public will await the result of the investigation with eagerness. As the case stands the weight of intelligent opinion seems to be that somebody in the house did the murder, some one who knew the habits of the deceased and of the family, and all the arrangements of the house; that the controlling motive for the deed was not simple robbery; that the assassin and the vicoth well known to each other. The police keep their own counsel, so much so that they have thrown several of the press off the scent entirely. The outlines the scope of the Coro-

or the press of the sected their. Tribune outlines the scope of the Coroner's inquiries as follows:

"Washington Nathan, the son who gave some testimeny on Friday relative to the finding of the body of his father and the 'dog,' the instrument with which the murder was committed, is to give a full statement of all he saw and did from the finding of the body until Officer Hengum was called. Frederick Nathan, who was awakened by his brother Washington and informed of the murder of their father, Mrs. Kelly, the husekeeper, and her son John, all of whom slept in the house, will be required to state all they know of everything happening in the house from Thursday evening until Friday morning. The carpenters employed in the house on the day before the murder. Officer Mangum of the Twenty-ninth Precinct, and several other persons will be examined also. Everything said and done at the inquest is to become a matter of record, and to make that record complete the Croner has engaged the services of a corn. As I write with difficulty I can only state the conclusions to which my mind has come-after a careful examination of this case.

The complainant has exhibited a patent dated 5th April, 1855. This is prima facie evidence of 4 good title, and puts on the respondents the burthers of proof that the patent is roll or worthers. Of the proof of Wall. C. En 2005, passed we adopt them as affording a rule of decision which applies clearly to the present case.

As the infringement of the patent is admitted, the only question will be a to the validity of complainant's potent of April 25, 1855.

> The Secret Treaty. LONDON, Aug. 4.
> The Daily News gives an important contradiction to the statement of the Paris Debats respecting the recent treaty. The Debats says that the treaty was not secret in the hands of the English Government from the very beginning.

To this the Daily News responds: Without any fears of well founded contradiction, we take upon ourselves to assert that our Parisian contemporary is misinformed. The text of the projected treaty was never in the hands of the English Government and first came under their eyes when if was published in the Times. The News suggets that any member of Parliament who wishes to be officially assured of the absolute iguorance of the Foreign Office, has only to put the question to clicit a distinctly negative answer.

Our June Report. Report for June, a speculator who has alays been credited with more cheek than rains, has industriously circulated fictitious figures and declarations in an atempt to throw discredit upon the elaborate and carefully compiled statement of The common shoal and smaller fry

Which boasting patrots seldom do. Merchant Tailors: to the necessity of justifying to his New York parties his wild calculations upon the theory that our Monthly Report was alse and deceptive. Failing entirely to satisfy us upon that point, he has succeeded in getting into print elsewhere, what purports to be an authoritative refutation of our June statistics. Now, in reply to this, we have only to say that for the onth of June the oil shipments as reported in the HERALD are correct, having been copied from the manifest books of the railroad company at all stations. The alleged "errors" are simply errors of the desperate manipulator in an insane effort to "covmanipulator in an insame effort to "cover" his reputation for sagacity with his totonfiding employers.

The river shipments and stocks of the wells were obtained from parties whose integrity and reliability are unquestioned. integrity and reliability are unquestioned, and that they were then correct our coming report for July (now in course of pre

The "six thousand barrels" alleged to have been omitted at Titusville were in cluded in the iron tankage at that point, as our figures prove, and as dispatches re eived yesterday fully substantiated.

The HERALD has always in the pasi and intends in the future, to give a true and impartial statement of the oil bus ness, and that its reports have been reliable, is attested by the favor with which hey have been received both abroad and at home. The statements thus formet have been correct, or as near so as possible, with se many sources from which to procure statistics and figures of the trade. As a rule operators and dealers have been willing to furnish all the assistance in their power towards giving reliable reports. The difficulty in obtaining such is apparent, when extent of the oil field is taken into consideration. No reporter of the HERALD as ever, to our knowledge, had the slightest pecuniary interest in shaping its market reports, and such reckless imputations come with a bad grace from the young "bruin" who offered our reporter $500 for the privilege of manipulating the report, and who has repeatedly renewed the at Good Templar Hall, this (Frid vy) even- same argument, in order to induce him to concede that there were errors sufficient to make good all his bearish telegrams

On the 22d day of July, a law was passed, which promised bounty, ($100) to those only who served two years, or were wounded or otherwise disabled in the service; and to the legal heirs of such as might die or be killed in the service. All chlistments on and after July 22, 1861, until another law was made, were subject to the conditions of this law.

The only question involved in U. S. vs. However, in Supreme Court, (Hosmer vs. U. S. in Court of Chains)-was whether the general order mentioned which required no particular length of service, or the law of July, 22, 1861, which required two years service, should apply, in respect to hounty to the troops called for by the President on Buy 3d, and the court decided that the promises of the orders should be carried out.

al equality with men. With half of women, no such ordinance as the political equality with men. With half the Common. Council of St. Louis made up of women, no such ordinance as the above-could have been passed. And until women vote, such unjust and iche-sided logislation as this of St. Louis is all that can be looked for.

One thing more. We have a little curiosity to know what disposition will be made by St. Louis of the large amounts that will secrete to it from the "monthly personal and house tax," to be levied on house of ith-fame and their inmates. Will it spend that price of ruined souls in defraying the expense of excursions of the city Board of Government to neighboring cities, to the Rocky Mountains, to San Francisco, or possibly to its larger and more wicked rival, New Tork? Or in lunches at some of the handsome hotels, or in giving outertainments to guests of the city from abroad? Or will these "wages of sin" be spent in its extensive water works, now in process of construction; in laying out public parks, or erecting magnificent halts of justice?

We remember that Chicago raised one year, recently, between $30,000 and $100,000 from the license fees of whisky shops, and larger boar saloons, one-tenth of which is appropriated to the maintenance of a "Washingtonian Home," for the reformation of the drankards it had helped to manufacture. Cannot St. Louis be persuaded into a like streak of beneficance, and be induced for appropriate to the Mary dates Hospital, which it has ordered for the female victims of man's lust, one-tenth of the first possible fees it fillshet from the filthy earnings of prostitution?
